EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Joseph Valentino on 8/22/2006.

The application has been amended as follows:

As per claim 23:

In line 3 of claim 23, the phrase "from the encoded symbols" was inserted after "multiple symbols".

As per claim 26:

In line 4 of claim 26, the term "encoded" was inserted before "symbols".

Reasons for Allowance

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The present invention pertains to a method and apparatus for soft decision decoding of received data transmitted over a channel.

Claim 23 recites various features:

"receiving a packet of encoded symbols; jointly quantizing multiple symbols from the encoded symbols; decoding the jointly quantized symbols to obtain a result; and decompressing the result into individual decoded symbols".

Art Unit: 2133

The Prior Art of record teach and, in particular, Kobayashi teaches receiving encoded symbols (Figure 14 B in Kobayashi teaches a decoder in a receiver for receiving a packet of encoded data); quantizing the encoded symbols to obtain quantized symbols (col. 6, lines 16-26 in Kobayashi teach that the AZD unit in Figure 14 B of Kobayashi is a quantizer for assigning an quantized estimate from a finite range of values to a received value that has an infinite range of values. However, the Examiner asserts that Joint quantization is a compression technique typically used for encoding speech or audio data prior to error correction encoding and prior to transmission. The prior art are not concerned with and do not teach, suggest, or otherwise render obvious the use of joint quantization of multiple symbols in a soft decoding processing unit as taught by claim 23. Hence the prior art taken alone or in any combination fail to teach the claimed novel feature in claim 23.

Claim 26 and 29 recite similar features as in claim 23.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
